

Village of Wolcott Privacy Statement

The Village of Wolcott website is covered by the Public Law 107-347 - E-Government Act of 2002 . The premise of our privacy policy arises from this Public Law, other legislation, and fair information practices.

What it means

On our website, we collect personal information about you only when you explicitly provide it. Examples of that collection would be when you submit via email, one of our applications such as a building permit or park use permit, or request information to be mailed to you. We protect the personal information given to us when you fill out a form. We only use these submitted applications for their originally intended use.

What is considered personal information?

Personal information is any information about you as an identifiable individual including your name, address, birth date, or your email address.

What we don't do

We do not provide personal information gathered on the websites to third parties except with your express permission or as permitted by law.

What we might do

We may release or use your personal information provided on the website for the purpose for which it was provided or for a compatible purpose. We may also do so if we are permitted under law, such as under a subpoena.

Do we use cookies or tracking devices?

Government websites may use cookies or tracking devices during your visit to our website. Information gathered by these technologies will disappear once you leave the website unless there is notice to the contrary on the website.

Server Logs

Our host servers may automatically collect some information about a visitor's computer or other access device, such as its Internet protocol address or browser version, in their logs. This information is used in aggregate form for statistical purposes only.

For Further Information please visit Public Law 107-347 - E-Government Act of 2002

Village of Red Creek Privacy Statement

The Village of Red Creek website is covered by the Public Law 107-347 - E-Government Act of 2002 . The premise of our privacy policy arises from this Public Law, other legislation, and fair information practices.

What it means

On our website, we collect personal information about you only when you explicitly provide it. Examples of that collection would be when you submit via email, one of our applications such as a building permit or park use permit, or request information to be mailed to you. We protect the personal information given to us when you fill out a form. We only use these submitted applications for their originally intended use.

What is considered personal information?

Personal information is any information about you as an identifiable individual including your name, address, birth date, or your email address.

What we don't do

We do not provide personal information gathered on the websites to third parties except with your express permission or as permitted by law.

What we might do

We may release or use your personal information provided on the website for the purpose for which it was provided or for a compatible purpose. We may also do so if we are permitted under law, such as under a subpoena.

Do we use cookies or tracking devices?

Government websites may use cookies or tracking devices during your visit to our website. Information gathered by these technologies will disappear once you leave the website unless there is notice to the contrary on the website.

Server Logs

Our host servers may automatically collect some information about a visitor's computer or other access device, such as its Internet protocol address or browser version, in their logs. This information is used in aggregate form for statistical purposes only.

For Further Information please visit Public Law 107-347 - E-Government Act of 2002